

The US Department of Homeland Security, which handles student visas, requires that we obtain evidence that you will have financial support to cover the cost of tuition, fees, and living expenses for the first year of study. We ask that this evidence be in English and less than 6 months old. If you will be accompanied by a spouse or a child, please reach out to us for further guidance. The following types of evidence will be accepted:

- Bank statement indicating the current balance for yourself, your family, or another individual sponsor. Any currency is acceptable as long as the type is clearly indicated.
- A scholarship or sponsorship letter from a sponsoring organization or government that indicates the amount, source, and length of award.

Complete the following information carefully and completely.
